

On the Line All-Star Sports Story

By Fred Bowen

Peachtree Publishers. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 112 pages. Dimensions: 7.3in. x 5.2in. x 0.6in. MARCUS IS ONE of the best players on his junior high school basketball team. Hes the highest scorer and the best rebounder, but hes not so great at free throws. When Marcus misses four free throws at the end of an important game and his team loses, he begins to lose his confidence on the court. With the help of a school custodian and former high school basketball player, Mr. Dunn, he learns about the granny shot, an unorthodox way of shooting foul shots, and about the former NBA star, Rick Barry, who used it throughout his career. Marcus tries the shot and is successful with it, but he resists using it because it looks silly and his teammates ridicule him. But when he finds himself on the foul line again in a crucial game, his desire to help the team win overcomes his pride. In the end Marcus learns the important lesson that appearances dont matter and pride stems from using knowledge and talent to do your best. A sports history epilogue provides a detailed inside look at NBA player Rick Barry and the infamous...
