Excerpt: .bill did not carry this provision, but was amended in the Benate so that the interest on indebtedness was allowable. The ownership of a corporation is vested in its preferred and common stockholders, and security holders. Each has an equity and, under certain limitations, the right of control. Their reward is supposed to be in proportion to the risk and, therefore, the distinction is one of degree; they have all invested a certain amount in the corporation as a business venture, and any such distinction as allowing the interest on bonded indebtedness as a business expense is es erroneous as allowing dividends as a busines l under Section 55 of the Act, every corporation 01 association operating for profit would require to make a return by the first of larch, in such form as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may prescribe, of all the following matters for the whole calendar year, last preceding the year of such 1 otu1 n2 lirst: The gross profits of such corporation, company or association from all kinds of business of every name and nature. 8econd: The expenses of such corporation, company or or association exclusive of interest, annuities, or dividends. Third: The not profits of such corporation, company or association without allowance for interest, annuities, or dividends. gg t3: Tho amount paid on account of interest, annuities, and dividends stated separately. Fifth: The amount paid in salaries of $4,000 or less, to each person employed. Sixth: The amount...
