Autumn Odyssey is the story of Richard Rouse an older American professor who is teaching English in a Czech university when he meets Helga Wintermantle, a German woman language teacher living in Prague where they fall in love. During the ensuing summer the story, which is told from the man's perspective, takes them on an exciting, love-filled auto trip across much of Western Europe. They tour city after fascinating city, and quaint little out-of-the-way-places and villages in France and Italy, and their final destination, an unbelievably wonderful little Greek island far out in the Aegean Sea. When the summer ends they move to New Orleans where Richard is on the faculty at Tulane University. They enjoy enchanting days and nights on Bourbon Street where Helga is fascinated by the wonders of the French Quarter, and which Richard seen entirely anew through her eyes. But Richard's old flame, professor Jennifer Smartley causes trouble at a faculty Mardi gras party, and a few days later Helga mysteriously disappears from New Orleans. Richard, his heart breaking, uses his spring break to hurry back to Europe to look for her, but he searches in vain, finding out nothing. He returns to New Orleans and convinces his department chairman he must take off the entire fall semester and go back to Europe and look for her more thoroughly; thus begins his autumn odyssey. Richard revisits each of the wonderfully romantic places they had visited on their magical summer trip: Prague, Brno, Paris, Chambord, an especially quaint little French village, Venice, Vernazza, a tiny picture-perfect Italian coastal village, then Rome where they unexpectedly come upon a photographer with a wedding couple which,...
