Excerpt: .been used, it would have been necessary either to have concreted directly against it and left it in place, or to have pulled the planks as the concrete was filled in. If the first method had been used, the planks would in time have become rotten, leaving a vacant spae, If the planks had been pulled, there would have been danger that some of the earth under the building would run and a settlement of the building follow. In order to guard against any slight voids which might have been left in driving, grout was poured in behind the sheeting. This sheetingserved not only to hold the bank in place, but was used, iijrplace of a back wall, to waterproof against. The sheeting was not disturbed, and the wall of the Tunnel was hun directly against it. Bids will be opened July(7 for the...
